Mauritius is an enchanting island nation located around 2000 km off the east coast of Africa. Although the island is said to have been discovered by the Arabs and the Portuguese subsequently, it was the Dutch who colonized the island and created a settlement here. Later, the British and the French came. This is one of the reasons why the country is multilingual, multiethnic, and multicultural. Talking about its topography, Mauritius has sapphire waters around it with lush greenery on its shores and intricacies. The island is known for its treks and nature trails. While you and your partner would be experiencing an opulent property and experiences on your luxury honeymoon holiday in Mauritius from Chennai, you could always venture out for some exploration of your own. The feel of this heavenly island is in its lush natural bounties. Take a walk around with your special someone and soak the beauty around.

Adding to its natural beauty and luxury resorts is Mauritius' wildlife. There are a plethora of birds and animals that are indigenous to this island. The wildlife foundation here painstakingly puts in all its efforts to protect the species of these beings and also work towards safeguarding the threatened endemic flora fauna. You and your partner can make the most of your leisure days provided with luxury honeymoon holidays to Mauritius from Chennai, and experience the activities and tours that provide an opportunity to see these species in their natural habitat.

Do not forget to pay a visit to the quaint fishing villages of Mauritius. These places evoke the pleasant feelings that are invoked in one when one is in the countryside. Relish on some local delicacies with a wide range of curries. Mauritians are known for their love of curries. Order some side dishes like rice, roti, dumplings, and fried noodles while you are savoring the delicious curries.
